

Advantages of EF International Academy

EF International Academy specialises in preparing students for English-speaking universities, with 90% of our students attending their first choice university. We help you through the entire process.

40 Years of experience Founded in 1965, EF has helped more than four million students realise their dream of studying abroad. Study with us worry free knowing our schools maintain round-the-clock contact with staff and parents back home.

Stellar results and student achievements EF International Academy students have excellent results: Over 90 percent of our graduates attend their first choice university and our students consistently receive high exam scores on internationally administered exams.

World-class faculty All courses are taught by certified, talented instructors with experience teaching international students. Last year, our students achieved a 94% pass rate in A-level exams. The percentage of our students receiving A and B grades is nearly double the UK national average.

Customised curriculum While following the required standards of the IB and A-Level programmes, we tailor-make every study programme to ensure you meet the English language and the academic requirements of English-speaking universities.

Truly international atmosphere Unlike typical private high schools, EF International Academy has a diverse student body. Students hail from every corner of the world, including Europe, Asia and Latin America, with over 30 nationalities represented.

Your welfare is our priority Along with thorough academic support, we have experienced staff at each campus to help organise accommodation, arrange exciting excursions, provide guidance and personally look after your welfare.

Expert English preparation Focusing on all aspects of the English language, we offer intensive training to ensure you develop the skills you need to successfully complete your A-level studies or the International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme.

Ideal study locations All our schools are in excellent locations with convenient access to local transport and leisure amenities. Each campus boasts modern classrooms and fully equipped computer labs that offer innovative learning technology.

High School Preparation Programme

Prepare for success in the A-Level and IB Diploma programmes or at an English-speaking high school, and improve your language skills with our unique nine- or six-month preparation programme.

The High School Preparation Programme is a foundation year or semester that prepares students for high school studies at English-speaking schools around the world. The course is aimed at students who have completed grade eight or above in their home country and want to improve their language skills and academic proficiency.

Small classes and focused courses of study help students gain a solid understanding of what is expected of them in the next step of their academic careers. Upon successful completion of the High School Preparation Programme, we will guarantee entry into one of our international high school programmes, such as the High School Programme Grades 9-10, the A-Level Programme or the IB Diploma Programme.

American High School Programme Grades 9-10

Successful university candidates need a strong academic foundation. Our American High School Programme fosters personal growth and leads to future academic achievement at English-speaking schools around the world.

The American High School Programme Grades 9-10 is for students aged 14 to 16. The programme is offered at our beautiful scenic campus in the safe village of Tarrytown, NY. Students receive a traditional American boarding school experience with a wide variety of academic subjects, sports and extracurricular activities. They will learn important study skills and habits in addition to language skills.

EF International Academy's cosmopolitan student body, world-class teachers, rigorous academic philosophy and global outlook provide a unique mix of assets not available in most high schools. This programme provides students with a strong academic foundation and therefore serves as the ideal foundation for the IB Diploma Programme.

International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme

The International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma Programme is a rigorous and balanced course of study suited for students who want to attend top universities.

The IB Diploma Programme leads to an internationally recognised senior high school diploma. It is a challenging two-year programme of international education, primarily aimed at students aged 16 to 19. When students have completed the programme, they receive a qualification that is universally accepted by leading universities throughout the world.

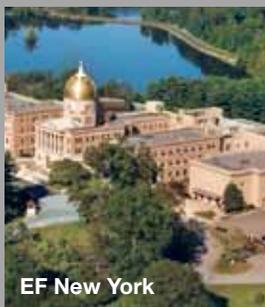

The programme's exacting curriculum prepares students for the demands of a university education. It has broad-ranging academic content that includes literature, humanities, mathematics, science and the arts. Successful completion of the programme allows students access to the best universities around the world.

A-Level Programme

Your passport to the best universities in the UK. Universities in Great Britain are recognised around the world for their excellence, and top-ranked British universities require secondary students to sit for A-level examinations.

Universities in the UK are regarded as some of the best in the world, and a standard way to get accepted to a British university is to take advanced level (A-level) examinations. Students study for the A-levels for two years, usually between the ages of 16 – 18. Our students achieved impressive 94% pass rate in A-level exams last year. Also, the percentage of our students receiving A and B grades is nearly double the UK national average.

Typically, a student wishing to attend university prepares for A-level examinations in three or four different subjects. EF International Academy's teachers specialise in helping students perform well on A-levels. They also advise students to choose subjects that will help their future careers and university applications. To assure students stay on track, our tutors monitor students' monthly test results, performance, homework and approach to studying. The programme is widely recognised by universities around the world as a high achievement, so doing well on A-levels opens doors to limitless possibilities.
